

Riddell Nominated.

SPECIAL TO DAILY BULLETIN.

WINCHESTER, Ky., June 10.—Riddell was nominated for Judge of the Court of Appeals on the one hundred and seventy-fifth ballot. The convention is enthusiastic over the result.

Circuit Court is in session at Vanceburg.

The last vote taken at Winchester stood Riddell, 92; Moore, 75.

There were twenty deaths from yellow fever at Havana last week.

The Blaine enthusiasm does not seem to have reached the New York papers.

Nine State elections will be held before the date for the Presidential election in November.

The State Board of Equalization assembled at Frankfort, Tuesday, and is still in session.

The Democratic county conventions in Missouri are declaring almost unanimously for Tilden.

The nomination of Riddell gives a black eye to bossism, and it is a lesson that is well deserved.

The committee on Civil Service Reform has reported unanimously against the bills to repeal the civil service act.

It is an admitted fact, according to her size, Lexington has more abandoned women than any other city in the country.

The rate of taxes in Bourbon County is eighty-one and a half cents on the $100 worth of property, with a per capita tax of $2.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS says he was present at the birth of the Republican party and he fears has been present at its death.

It is expected that yellow fever will be unusually severe at New Orleans this year, and preparations have been made to check it.

The outrageous attempt to suppress the will of the Democracy in this district has been fully rebuked by the nomination of Judge Riddell.

By a vote of 447 for, to 1,252 against, the city of Covington has decided not to build a $1,000,000 free bridge across the Ohio river from that place to Cincinnati.

A MAN without money and without much influence has broken down every combination and defeated the most powerful ringsters in the State. There seems to be life in the old land yet.

The failure to bribe delegates to the Winchester Convention to vote for Col. Moore by the offer of $1,000, is thus noticed by a correspondent of the Courier-Journal:

After reading the letter, Robertson gave it to his friends and started out in quest of Eason. Eason decided that he had no knowledge of the contents of the letter and only handed it to Robertson by request. Robertson informed him that his pretense was a dirty lie, and denounced him as a liar and scoundrel and proceeded to give him a good shaking, but was prevented by the intervention of friends. Eason left on the next train for home.

The State Auditor has sent the following letter to all the Sheriffs in this State: Dear Sir: The Legislature has established a State Equalization Board, which is required to meet at Frankfort, Ky., on the 1st of July, to assess the counties. The law requires the results of their action to be certified in this office and forwarded to you, directing an increase or decrease as the case may be. You will see at once that you cannot proceed to the collection of the revenue for your county until this board has made its order in regard to your county. This required certificate will, of course, be sent you at the earliest possible day, but it cannot be expected until some time in July. Yours truly, FAYETTE HEWITT.

The Louisville Post says: One reason the Kentucky Court of Appeals is a laughing stock and Kentucky courts proverbially uncertain, is on account of the political methods by which the judgeships are obtained. There is no doubt of the statement published in the Post, Saturday, that a bribe of $1,000 had been offered at the Winchester Convention. When seats upon the highest bench in the State are secured by bribery and corruption, what chance is there for just administration of the laws? When aspirants for Appellate judgeships set such an example, who can blame the sharks who defend criminals for purchasing a few jurors and witnesses?

France wine cultivators and fruit growers had their prospects terribly marred by the recent weather. Owing to the brilliant and genial days of March, things were quite three weeks earlier than usual, and the recent severe frosts, coupled, as they have been with cloudless sky, have consequently worked sad havoc. In the vineyards of Maconnaise and of the Saone valley the damage is estimated by millions of francs. The upper Burgundy, Beaujolais, Champagne, and Lorraine districts have equally suffered, and in the Franco-Comte, where there have been heavy falls of snow, the effects of temperature have been especially disastrous. In the Midi and the Bordaies the mischief has been but of partial extent.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Mr. Morrison (Ill.), from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a concurrent resolution fixing the hour of adjournment at 3 p. m. Monday, June 30. It was received with applause and passed unanimously.

The Louisiana Seaboard Railroad Land

Forfeiture Bill was postponed until tomorrow.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the River and Harbor Bill.

Mr. Ockliffe made an anomalous proposition to strike out the appropriation for the improvement of the harbor at Galveston, Texas.

The debate disclosed the fact that it was done with the view of substituting a future special bill. The Eads jetty system was preferable to the present unsuccessful system. The cost of the Eads' system is estimated at $7,500,000. The paragraph stricken out being the first amendment to the bill.

In the Senate, a large number of petitions were presented from various sections against the Government Telegraph bill.

Mr. Logan introduced a bill, by request, relating to the right of way to the New Orleans & Mississippi Railroad through government lands at Baton Rouge.

Mr. Beck withdrew a resolution instructing the Committee on Judiciary to report a bill for the removal of political disabilities, explaining that the arrangement of business before the committee precluded any action on the measure this session.

Mr. Voorhees offered a resolution, which went over, directing the Secretary of the Interior to furnish information in regard to contracts for fuel for the beef cattle to Indiana during 1883 and 1884.

Consideration of the Mexican Pension bill was resumed. Mr. Beck remarked that if the bill were amended it stood a poor chance of passage this session. This remark was elicited by the amendment of Mr. Harrison, requiring sixty days of actual service to entitle veterans to a pension.

Mr. Morgan said the amendment was intended to defeat the bill.

Mr. Harrison denied this. He was opposed to persons receiving pensions who never shared actual dangers in the Mexican war.

THE supper at Cooper's building last night was well attended and passed off very pleasantly. The vocal and instrumental music was well rendered and a very interesting feature of the evening's programme. The piano performance of Mattie W. The cornet solo by Mr. Matthews is especially worthy of mention. He is one of the best performers it has ever been our pleasure to hear. The supper will be repeated this evening.

Alleged Attempt at Bribery.

WINCHESTER, Ky., June 7.—J. M. Robertson, delegate from Pike, says an attempt to bribe him was made by Mr. Eason, a lawyer of Callettsburg, supposed to be in the interest of Col. Laban T. Moore. Mr. Robertson declines the following letter from Eason:

Sir: We have consulted and concluded to take nothing at all, but before doing so, wish to know positively what you have concluded to do, and our actions will be built upon your actions. Therefore it is necessary for you to give us an early reply, orally or by letter, and should you see fit to select and agree to our terms, you can name the place and time to meet and fix it up, and you are to be the beneficiary of $1,000 cash in hand if you will act square out and up to our suggestions at the last moment. As you said last night you were not prepared to make an answer, we will expect an immediate reply. This is all as confidential, and is to be considered a matter of a secret as our past conversations and arrangements. Hoping you will give your own interest due consideration before deciding, we will trust the matters to you only.

On the back is written the following: "Friend Bob: I am doing my best for you. Say no."

A correspondent says: "This letter is an unmistakable offer to bribe Robertson with $1,000 to violate instructions and betray his constituents and Judge Riddell, and vote for Colonel Moore, in whose interest, and by whose henchmen he voted last night. There is something peculiarly fascinating about that sum of $1,000. It is the precise sum raised and furnished to present the Chief Justice of Kentucky by two gentlemen of Mason County, from one of whom I have the facts. A certain county was bought and paid for. The vote was cast by proxy, and that proxy consisted of a telegram which is alleged by good authority to have been forged. If politicians will do it is during this time that the people shall know how the highest judicial positions in their gift are attained."

Mrs. Richard Reid.

St. Louis, May 19, 1884.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The brief editorial in your issue of the 16th inst., commenting on the suicide of Judge Reid, in my opinion is one of extraordinary force, yet, when it tells your readers, "It is said his wife was dissatisfied with his course," you doubtless, unintentionally, do a cruel injustice to a self-stricken lady; your information is not correct. I know where I write. Death has bereft her of a companion, gentle and true as ever worshipped at the shrine of a gentle and noble man. He was my kinsman—whom a general public sentiment in Kentucky had deeded. The "Post-Dispatch" expected of a State. Since never withheld a protestation from act, paused in love, or waned in admiration for him.

Who was her life.

The ocean, to the river of her thoughts, which terminate all.

You can readily understand how a delicate, refined woman whose of christian duty and charitable deeds blends her name with religion over the region of a broad State, would be shocked physically prostrated by intelligence that the temple of earthly love had been desecrated by a ruthless monster, making its way to the altar without a hiss to indicate its presence or intention. Woe and humiliation forced to conceal the aching wifely tenderness she wrote me, "I cannot give my consent that your cousin shall wash away the hideous stain with human blood." The very day he ceased to live, full of heart, overflowing with sympathy, such as only emanates from the virtuous bosom of a lovable, loved and loving woman, she addressed me, unaware of the impending horror that was to storm that day e'er the sun went down, leaving her alone with God. In this last brief letter, mentioning the satisfactory progress her husband was making in the canvass, she reiterates her question by saying she being wrong by his own hand. It was perhaps, whilst she was penning this epistle to me, that as you, Mr. Editor, gracefully say, "with no malice in his heart, and with a moral support extended to him by the church, and by all the organs of enlightened public sentiment, Judge Reid found life a burden too heavy to bear, and he turned the key in the door of eternity, that his freed spirit might away from the earth, leaving the splendid tabernacle, a reptile had slithered, a cold, untenanted image of God. The publication of this note will be justice to the sorrowing widow and a favor to me.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you have? The plague?" Beware of "only coughs." The worst cases can, however, be cured by Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. In whooping cough and croup it immediately allays irritation, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by druggists.

Telephone Notice.

The following letter from the General Manager of the American Bell Telephone Company to its licensee, the East Tennessee Telephone Company, explains itself. The latter company owns and operates the exchange in Mayville:

THE AMERICAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.,
No. 90 MILK STREET, BOSTON,
June 3rd, 1884.

Dear Tennessee Telephone Company, Clarence Corp., President, New York:—I have just received your letter of the 29th inst. regarding the matter of the telephone exchange in Mayville, and in reply to your letter on the subject of a further extension of the term of the license.

The license was granted to Alexander T. Thompson, in 1879, No. 17463, and January 10, 1881, No. 18676. The transmission of speech by all known forms of electric speaking telephones, infringes the rights secured to us by the above patents, and renders such individual use of telephones, not furnished by us or our licensees, responsible for unlawful use, and all the consequences thereof and all our licensees are not provided with the means for infringement against parties using such telephones in violation of such use. If you desire to do so you can make this letter public, and warning to all such infringers. Yours truly,
THOS. N. VAIL, General Manager.
